WOODRING ADVISES U. S. MIND OWN BUSINESS

Ex-Secretary Silent on Reasons for Resignation

He spoke last night at a Chamber of Commerce dinner welcoming him back to his native state

Woodring asserted he was a non-interventionist "now and always"

"If the reaction from my leaving the war department as a known non-interventionist has caused modification of some policies and sobered some of those provocative and meddling advisers of the administration who would strip our own defenses, then I regret that I had only one set of guts to sacrifice on the altar of public service."

AXIS BLOCKS HUNGARY MOVE

Nazis, Italy Tell Nation Not To Disturb Situation in Balkans Now.

By The Associated Press

MUNICH July 10—Hungary's leaders were told definitely by Adolf Hitler and the foreign ministers of Germany and Italy today that Hungary must not upset the Balkan applecart at this time by trying to secure her rights from Rumania informed German sources said

Premier Count Pal Teleki and Foreign Minister Count Istvan Csaky who came to discuss Hungary's demands that Rumania restore at least part of war-lost Transylvania to her conferred first with Foreign Ministers Joachim Von Ribbentrop and Count Galeazzo Ciano and then were received by Hitler

While both Hitler and Premier Mussolini of Italy are agreed that their program for scrapping the Versailles and other World war treaties means also revision in the Near East the informants said Hitler holds this is not the time for revisionists to press their claims too aggressively

There were indications that measures for tightening the blockade against England through closer integration of the Balkans in the axis economic system were discussed

RUMANIA ARRESTS IRON GUARD LEADER

Carol Acts in Effort To Prevent Loss of Power.

By The Associated Press

BUCHAREST July 10—The ministry of propaganda announced today the arrest of General Ion Antonescu veteran leader of Rumania's pro-Nazi 'Iron Guard' as King Carol II moved to prevent the Iron Guard from wresting control of the government from him

Antonescu who had been trying to unite various Iron Guard groups was seized yesterday at Predeal in the Transylvania foothills, because of an unfriendly attitude towards the present regime the ministry said

The king strove to win the support of all factions and quell any internal threat to his totalitarian party of the nation' to present a united front against outside danger to Rumania's existence

King Carol has forbidden revival of any outlawed political parties

A government decree last night forbade the sale outside Rumania of stock in any foreign-owned Rumanian company, This action was taken after reports spread that the $100,000,000 British oil interests here might be transferred to Russia

These reports arose simultaneously with disclosure that for weeks British-produced oil has been going to Germany, except for small quantities of Yugoslavia, Hungary and Bulgaria, because the war in the Mediterranean prevented British exportation.

PLEDGE MADE TO KEEP U. S. MEN AT HOME

President Declares America Will Not Wage War of Aggression.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON July 10—President Roosevelt asked congress to authorize an additional $4 848 - 171 987 for defense today in a special message asserting that We will not use our arms in a war of aggression we will not send our men to take part in European wars

Mr Roosevelt's request brought to approximately $10 000 000 000 the funds and contract authorizations asked this session for land sea and air armaments Previously the President had asked and the congress voted about $5 000 - 000 000 in the two categories

Specifically Mr Roosevelt today requested $1 161 441 047 in a cash appropriation and $2 686 - 730 000 of contract authorizations

The latter would permit congress to appropriate later a like amount

The principal lesson of the war up to the present time is that partial defense is inadequate defense Mr Roosevelt declared

Means Sacrifice

'So great a sum means sacrifice So large a program means hard work — the participation of the whole country in the total defense of the country This nation through sacrifice and work and unity proposes to remain free'

The President outlined the government's immediate objectives' as follows

1 To carry forward the naval expansion program designed to build up the navy to meet any possible combination of hostile naval forces

2 To complete the total equipment for a land force of approximately 1 200 000 men though of course this total of men would not be in the army in time of peace

3 To provide reserve stocks of tanks guns artillery ammunition et for another 800 000 men or a total of 2 000 000 men if a mobilization of such a force should become necessary

4 To provide for manufacturing facilities, public and private necessary to produce critical items of equipment required for a land force of 2 000 000 men and to produce the ordnance items required for the aircraft program of the army and navy—guns bombs armor, bomb sights and ammunition

5 Procurement of 15 000 additional planes for the army and 4 000 for the navy, complete with necessary spare engines armaments and the most modern equipment

Training Plan Mentioned

Mentioning that congress was considering enactment of a system of selective training to develop the necessary man power to operate this material and man power to fully army non-combat needs Mr Roosevelt commented —but without specifying what plan he favored

In this way we can make certain that when this modern material becomes available it will be placed in the hands of troops trained seasoned and ready and that replacement material can be guaranteed

At one point Mr Roosevelt declared We fully understand the threat of the new enslavement in which men may not speak may not listen may not think As these threats become more numerous and their dire meaning more clear it deepens the determination of the American people to meet them with wholly adequate defense

We have seen nation after nation some of them weakened by treachery from within succumb to the force of the aggressor. We see great nations still gallantly fighting against aggression encouraged by high hope of ultimate victory

"That we are opposed to war is known not only to every American, but to every government in the world We will not use our arms in a war of aggression; we will not send our men to take part in European wars"

"But, we will repel aggression against the United States or the western hemisphere The people

ARMY TESTING DIESEL TANKS

Greater Range of Operation Is Advantage Over Gasoline Models.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, July 5—The United States army is experimenting with a number of tanks powered by engines of the diesel type in an effort to double the distance they can travel without refueling.

Two will be used by Brig. Gen. Adna R. Chaffee, commander of the new armored corps at Fort Benning, before the 14th Washington for the first tactical maneuvers of the mechanized force unit.

Success of the experiments, General Chaffee explained, would mean that these fuel-efficient vehicles could operate more than ever as self-contained units, like the old cavalry troops, striking deep into an enemy's communications and then pulling out.

The tanks will be put through their paces in the presence of the chief of staff, General Malin Craig, and other high officers of the army, particularly of the mechanized units attached to headquarters.

"But we are doing nothing that might give some immediate protection" he added. "Our present program is a part of the long-time program."

COURT RULES AGAINST TAX ASSESSMENT LAW

County Board Measure Held Unconstitutional.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS O July 10—The Ohio supreme court today held unconstitutional a law enacted by the present legislature creating county boards of special assessments which may be considered excessive.

The decision was given in an action brought by Frank Szalay of Brooklyn village Cuyahoga county to compel County Auditor John A Zangerle to set aside funds for operation of the board which had been created by the county commissioners. It declared the law retroactive.

Auditor Zangerle refused to provide the money contending the law was invalid. The court was unanimous in upholding Zangerle's contention.

It is our opinion the court said that the act will operate to invade rights of abutting property owners which have become fixed also, by abating assessments of those who have become delinquent in the payment of their special assessments, so much of such assessments as will have been abated will have to be paid in the form of general taxes by those not in default. The net effect of the act will be that new obligations will be imposed upon the general taxpayer with respect to transactions which transpired prior to its passage.

WILLKIE SEES FOES AFRAID OF OUTCOME

Tells Gillette To Go Ahead with Investigation.

COLORADO SPRINGS Colo, July 10—Wendell L. Willkie said today a projected senate committee investigation of his campaign for the Republican presidential nomination was evidence that the New Deal must indeed be nervous about the outcome of the election

Willkie arrived here last night for a three-week vacation He declared he would just loaf during the first week would see a number of Republican leaders in the second week and would devote the third to preparation of his formal address accepting the nomination

The New York nominee was informed during his plane trip westward that Chairman Gillette (D-Iowa) of the senate campaign investigating committee wanted to inquire into the alleged high pressure telegraphic campaign in behalf of Wendell Willkie

Gillette added that he knew of no law to prevent that type of campaign

Willkie said in response to questions that there had been no telegraphic campaign and then added

Gillette is a Democrat and is trying to help the Democrats win As far as I am concerned they can investigate us forever We do not want to conduct a campaign on such trivialities

A party which has to resort to such tactics as the New Deal is presently doing must indeed be nervous about the outcome of the election and their representatives in the congress know that the threats to our liberties the threats to our security the threats against our way of life the threats to our institutions of religion of democracy and of international good faith have increased in number and gravity from month to month from week to week and almost from day to day

Mr Roosevelt said it was because of the rapid changes in the world situation the grave danger to democratic institutions and also because of the united will of the entire American people that I come to ask you for a further authorization of $4 848 171 957 for the national defense

President Roosevelt summoned legislative defense and fiscal officials of the government to work on the steeply graduated excess profits tax which he has recommended as a part of the national defense program

Stimson Approved

As congress awaited the new defense recommendation from the president senate confirmation of Henry L Stimson as secretary of war presaged similar approval of Col Frank Knox for the navy post in the cabinet

Favorable action on Knox appointment was generally taken for granted

Administration leaders considered all uncertainty removed when the senate voted 55 28 to confirm Stimson

Party lines divided in that tally yesterday with 45 Democrats 10 republicans and 1 independent voting to confirm and 14 Democrats 12 Republicans 1 Progressive and 1 Farmer Laborite favoring rejection Sen Robert A Taft Ohio Republican voted against confirmation while Sen Vic Donahey Ohio Democrat was not listed as voting

Completion of senate action will end an interregnum of several weeks in the nation's key defense posts and put two Republicans in charge of an expanding army and navy program for which about $5 000 000 000 in cash already has been provided

Stimson's confirmation came after two days of acrimonious debate which closed when Democratic Leader Barkley appealed for approval in the interests of national unity

European political interest centered on Munich where Hungarian leaders were summoned for a conference on Balkan issues and Vichy where French legislators met in national assembly

Budapest sources reported that a preliminary agreement already had been reached whereby Germany and Italy would call upon Rumania to satisfy Hungarian territorial claims by ceding Hungary part of the province of Transylvania

Rumania's King Carol II in the face of danger from outside sought to weld internal political unity in his nation to give it strength

OKLAHOMA DEMOCRATS NOMINATE CONGRESSMEN

OKLAHOMA CITY July 10—Oklahoma's nine congressmen, who stuck to their jobs in Washington and let campaigning back home take care of itself, apparently were rewarded today with renomination by the state's Democrats

Balloting was much lighter than in the 1938 elections, when 600 000 voters were cast.

Fastest runner of all was Will Rogers, congressman-at-large He trampled the hopes of former Gov William H "Alfalfa Bill" Murray and 15 other opponents.

Joining Murray on the sidelines was another former governor, E. W Marland, who found Rep. Phil Ferguson, Woodward banker-rancher, far too fast for him.

The governor promised the council full cooperation in preparing a traffic code for the next legislature and criticized the present general assembly for failing to be impressed with the need for new traffic safety measures.

BRICKER BACKS BROWN IN "WITNESSES" ROW

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O, July 10—Gov Bricker refused today to interfere with a ruling of Agriculture Director John T Brown denying a religious sect use of the state fairgrounds for national convention July 24-28

In a letter to Frederick Thieret of Cleveland, Bricker said:

"I was advised by representatives of your group that your members refuse to salute the American flag. There is no religious connotation in saluting or refusing to salute the American flag. Loyalty to the flag and to the government that it represents strengthens and never weakens one's religious convictions."

16 Marionites Naturalized

zation laws require that an applican' have two vouchers.

Makes Recommendation

Tenseness fairly radiated from the jury box where the applicants sat when Mr Kennedy finally turned and said I recommend for citizenship and began reading off the list Three of the group he advised to continue their study and return at the next examination which will be held some time in the fall

Judge Young told those not recommended that they need not return for the program this afternoon and said they will be eligible for another examination following further preparation

The feeling of relief that swept over the 16 foreign born members of the group was apparent to all who were watching For two hours they had sat some with twitching lips others were nervously working hands—one woman removed her hat when the questioning became intense—trying so hard to find the right answers

The feeling of a majority of the native born Americans listening, judging from comments afterwards was Boy I'm glad he didn't ask me some of those questions It made at least one person the reporter a bit ashamed to hear several of the group reel off the preamble to the Constitution—she would have been as stuck as were several of the applicants—to hear them explaining about the legislative judicial and executive branches of the government the history of the Constitution the history of the Declaration of Independence the purport of the Bill of Rights It seemed to the reporter that most native born Americans have too vague a knowledge of these fundamentals which every good citizen should know by heart

One Error Brings Laugh

Levity entered the proceedings only once One of the women had been answering questions in fine style She knew the branches of government the heads of the state and nation how they are elected just about everything Mr Kennedy asked her Changing the theme of his questions he asked What court are you in now? Common pleas she replied And who is head of this court? he continued 'Mayor Snavely' she replied which brought laughs from Judge Young on the bench the lawyers present and everyone within earshot of the answer Embarrassed to a point of blushing the woman quickly changed her answer to Hector Young when the laughter had subsided

The word bund came into the questioning of several German born applicants Mr Kennedy questioned the applicants individually from time to time and when he came to those born in Germany he asked if they were members of a bund or any other organization which teaches dual allegiance Each person gave a vigorous No response

Do you know anything about the Fifth Column or any other columns they are talking about now? Mr Kennedy asked one man and received No in reply

Examiner Firm

Mr Kennedy was firm in his conduct of the examination When a man or a woman missed too many questions he asked why he so she was not in the citizenship classes which are being offered free to all who wish to study for the naturalization examination and for Americans who wish to brush up on their knowledge of their government.

I guess you don't want to be a citizen very badly he told one man who had failed to answer time after time

Mr Kennedy seemed to think highly of the citizenship class idea Nine of the successful applicants were enrolled in the class taught every Monday and Wednesday night from 6 30 to 9 30 at the Y M C A under the instruction of Miss Mayme Thornberg The classes are sponsored by the WPA adult education program

He conducted the questioning most of the time person-by-person along the rows but from time to time he'd skip a row or several persons and that kept the examination moving along with each applicant nervously wondering if he or she would get the next question

Sample of Questions

Following is an example of questioning up and down the line

What kind of government do we have here? Republican

What do you mean by republican?" the people elect their own officers.

What officers do they elect?" Congress

What is Congress?" Our representatives

How many representatives do you find in Congress?' 435 congressman

Why 435?' Because they're elected according to population of the states

Who else is in Congress? The Senate

How many are there in the Senate? 96

Why 96? Because there are two from each of the 48 states.

What do they do in Congress? Make the laws.

How Laws Are Made

Here he went into deta iled questioning regarding the making of laws

How do we get a President? By electoral vote

Who elects the electors? The people

For how long is the President elected? Four years.

Suppose something should happen to the President then who becomes President? The vice president

Suppose something happened to both? Then the secretary of state becomes President

Who is secretary of state? Hull

Who helps the President carry out the duties of his office? The cabinet

How does the cabinet help him? By advising him

How do they get to be members of the cabinet? The president appoints them

What is the Constitution? The supreme law

When was it made? 1787

Who made it? Delegates from the United States

How many states were there then? 13 colonies

Why did they make the Constitution? Because the articles of federation were not strong enough

At one point he asked whether any President had ever been impeached and the first answer of Andrew Jackson was quickly changed by the applicant to Andrew Johnson

Stressed Bill of Rights

Mr Kennedy spent considerable time impressing by repeating questioning the importance of the Bill of Rights He went over the amendments to the Constitution and required that the applicants tell him what each stood for

There seemed to be some misunderstanding several times among the applicants as to the difference between the Constitution and the Declaration of Independence It took questioning of several to get the answer England to the question of Before the Declaration of Independence who governed this country

The two persons who vouched for each the applicants had to tell Mr Kennedy how long they had know them how often they saw them whether they knew of any arrest for any violation of the law whether they knew of any sympathy — anarchist communist or otherwise opposed to this government whether they were of good moral character and whether they were well disposed towards the interests of this country

LAYS BLAME ON U. S. FOR CRISIS IN WORLD

Chicago Professor Says Peace "Slaughtered" in 1920.

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND July 10 — The United States itself slaughtered the world peace it made in 1920 Dr Quincy Wright professor of international law at the University of Chicago said today

The slaughter was effected not only by the senate's refusal to join the League of Nations, but also by the destructive economic policy in contradiction to the Wilsonian ideas, Dr Wright asserted in an address at the summer institute on current affairs of Western Reserve university

"The economic policy of higher and higher trade barriers, more and more insistence on the collection of debts more extensive loans to Germany to permit her to pay the reparations to the allies who then returned the sum to the United States for inter-allied debt payments created an unsound economic structure which precipitated the crisis of 1929

He found nothing inherently impossible in re-establishing ideals of liberty democracy and free enterprise and world federalism after the World war if the nations part ularly this nation had been induced to accept them all

But there was an honest pendency of these various ideals and it was not and is not likely that democracy and liberty will survive unless there is also a willingness to establish a genuine world federalism capable of preventing construction of impassable economic barriers Dr Wright said

Dr Wright said the United States must no longer allow democracies to be separated so they can be destroyed one at a time and must be prepared to make concession of sovereignty essential for an effective world order

Marriage Meddlers

By ADELE GARRISON

With the Exchange of Mary and Noel for the Emeralds Almost Completed, Leslie Makes a Move.

LISTEN to our old college pal, sling 'em."

The leader of Jack Leslie's men in the big car drawn up on the opposite side of the road hardly waited for Harry Underwood to finish his gibing refusal to leave the deserted road before tossing back his mocking answer.

"Do you mean to tell me?" he added, "that you're going to keep muscling in where you're not wanted? We've brought the box, you've brought the two love birds. What are you beefing about now?"

"Pardon my seeming impertinence," Harry said with elaborate mocking courtesy, "but it is my impression that you people are doing the 'beefing', if any. Now, if I may make a compromise suggestion, suppose two of your men—and the box—come over into this car, and our two hostages transfer themselves to yours. Then if you'll lead the way out, we will follow you to the junction of roads 1 mentioned before."

With a torrent of profanity, the leader of Leslie's men consigned Mr. Underwood to the lowest of the nethermost regions. Without another look or answering word, Harry started his car, the leader of my father's men followed suit, and both cars were moving before Leslie's man yelled: "Hey! You can't do that!"

Harry's Ruse

Both cars stopped, but with their motors running, and Mr. Underwood slowed his voice to a most irritating drawl.

"Can't we? Just watch us!"

Then, in an instant he spoke with commanding emphasis.

"I'm not waiting another second. If you want these 'love birds', as you call 'em, you send those two men with the box over here. You can send two of your men with 'em if you don't trust us, and we'll send two of ours with the young folks, as we sure don't trust you. Then when the exchange is completed, your men and mine can return to their respective cars, and we'll all be off. Another thing, another word of that particularly vile language of yours, and all bets are off. If you don't know how to talk in front of a lady, we'll teach you. Another thing! The Chief says that if one hair of either of these young folks is parted wrong while they're away, we're going to tear all of you apart with our bare hands. Get me?"

The Missing Signal

I expected to see Jack Leslie in his hiding place so near us stiffen with rage at this speech, perhaps go charging out into the fray. But to my astonishment, he seemed to have relaxed a bit, and I wondered if perhaps he had entertained a vague, troubling doubt of the identity of Mary and Noel, which Harry's words had banished.

The leader of Leslie's men was fairly black with rage, but his bewilderment and uncertainty were even greater. He looked wildly about, hoping, I knew, to receive some signal from Leslie, but, when none was forthcoming, he spoke.

"Have it your own way," he said sullenly. "Here, Tim and Boots, you go along with Mac and Bill and the box. Don't come back here till those love birds are in this car, and their escorts"—he almost spat out the word—"ready to go back. I'll give you the signal when to mosey back over here."

Leslie Makes His Move

The four men climbed down obediently, and as they did so, Harry Underwood gave the signal to my father's men in the car next his. Two of them immediately got out of their car and came over to Dicky's in which sat Watson and Blake, the impersonators of Mary and Noel. Then the pseudo Noel and Mary got out, and with a guard on either side began to walk toward the other car, passing Leslie's men with the box on the way.

Lillian and I, watching Jack Leslie, saw him leaning forward, watching his prey—as he thought—intently. I fairly held my breath, for I knew Leslie, who himself had been a public performer, was versed in make-up and all sorts of disguises.

I do not know what aroused his suspicion, but we saw him tense and knew that in another instant he would dash out into the road with a shouted warning.

Symphony Board Plans Expansion of Activities

WHEN the Woman's Symphony Board opens its 1940-41 season in September it will have increased its membership list to 100, plans will have been completed for the presentation of two of the three concert programs at the Palace theater, and for the appearance of Miss Paulina Rubinska, concert pianist of New York City, as the guest artist on the initial program.

Plans for the season were discussed and Mrs. Harold K. Mouser, newly-elected president, named her committees at a meeting of the board yesterday at Hotel Harding.

In keeping with the board's endeavor to maintain an increasing interest in the concert series, to enable the orchestra to realize its ambition of presenting a better concert each year and to acknowledge the fine patronage accorded the series each year, the members have enlarged their membership and are increasing their activities. As in former years the members have high hopes of a successful year both from the standpoint of music and patronage, and judging from the history of both the orchestra and board this success is assured.

Two of the three concerts of the 1940-41 series will be presented at the Palace theater, and one in the First Presbyterian church. Outstanding artists will be heard on each program together with Marion's own symphony orchestra which may be counted upon to score a musical triumph on every appearance. The final concert of the series will celebrate National Music Week.

Tentative plans call for a ticket selling campaign which will get under way at an early date and the first concert will be held in November or early December. The hour for holding board meetings was moved up to 11:30 o'clock in order to provide for an early adjournment and meetings will be held on the regular date, the second Tuesday of each month. The next meeting will be Sept. 10 at Hotel Harding.

Of interest to the board members was a talk on symphonies by Miss Marguerite Easter of New York City, the houseguest of Mrs. David W. Evans of West Center street, and a guest at the meeting. She discussed programs, composers and successful methods of sponsoring the symphony both from a musical and financial standpoint.

Chairmen and committees named by Mrs. Mouser are program, Mrs. Victor E. Dombaugh; social, Mrs. David W. Evans, Mrs. Carl W. Sawyer, Mrs. Hulda Morris, Mrs. John M. Gardner, Mrs. John L. Case; tickets, Mrs. Robert Y. Smith; ushers, Mrs. Frank M. Knapp; finance, Mrs. Robert White, Mrs. E. N. Hale, Mrs. Alfred Donithen, Mrs. Walter E. Hane, Mrs. J. Malcolm Strelitz; membership, Mrs. Emma Voorhees, Miss Philomen Gregg, Mrs. J. C. Woods; artist, Mrs. Strelitz, Mrs. Paul D. Michel, Mrs. Robert Y. You can beat the heat with a freezerful of frozen lusciousness

Velvety home made ice creams and sparkling fruity sherbets no longer are Sunday specials or party treats Dozens of frozen delights—wholesome comparatively inexpensive and easy to make—have found their way into the weekday menus of many households

Tops in flavor low in cost s Western Fruit Sherbet Save juices from canned o fresh fruits and use them instead of the wa e in the recipe if you like Here's how it goes Boil together for 2 minutes 2 cups granulated sugar and 2 cups water Cool and add n cup each of orange and pineapple juices 1 3 cup lemon juice ½ cup crushed pineapple and 2 teaspoons grated lemon rind Pour into a chilled sterilized freezer and pack well with 8 cups of chopped ice to one cup of coarse salt Turn the crank steadily until it gets a little hard to turn—that means the sherbet has begun to freeze Then lightly mix in 2 beaten egg whites and freeze until stiff Drain off the water remove the dasher repack the freezer and let your sherbet stand 2 hours—or longer—to set (Never fill the freezer more than two thirds full of the mixture to allow for swelling) This makes a refreshing dessert when served on plain or sponge cake You can make it dessier by piling the sherbet into hollowed pineapple cases garnishing t with fresh mint leaves and sprinkling fresh berries over all

Whisk up the makings for this Summer Bisque in the morning then let it chill until cranking time The mixtures swell more if they are chilled thoroughly before freezing time Here is the recipe Beat 4 egg yolks and add 2 tablespoons flour ¼ teaspoon salt 1 cup granulated sugar and 2 cups whole milk Cook in a double boiler until a little creamy Stir constantly Beat cool and add 2 teaspoons vanilla and 2 cups thin cream Freeze as usual Pack and let ripen at last 2 hours

Some housewives prefer to make ice creams and sherbets by the regular freezer method and then keep them in the trays of the mechanical refrigerator This is a very handy method and the foods will keep well for at least 3 days

Snow Balls on a sizzling day —doesn't that sound cooling? Shape any plain ice cream into 2 inch balls, roll them in cocoanut and serve atop rounds of angel food cake With fresh berry sauce or sliced fresh peaches they are winners. A variation is to stuff hollowed-out individual cakes with plain ice cream and then sprinkle them with crushed pineapple mixed with seeded red cherries

Chocolate Chip Ice Cream is another new fangled dessert When vanilla ice cream is half frozen mix in 2 3 cup of shaved chocolate chips for each 2 cups of cream used in the recipe Put in a few shredded toasted almonds too, for extra crunch

The youngsters will make a dash for the dasher taken from a freezer of Peppermint Stick Ice Cream. Crush ¼ pound peppermint candy and soak it 10 minutes in a cup of hot milk Cool and add to a quart of thin cream soaked 10 minutes with a cup of granulated sugar ¼ teaspoon salt and 2 teaspoons of vanilla Tint green or pink and freeze as usual Place scoops of this ice cream on rounds of angel food cake and surround them with chocolate sauce—hot or cold

Banana Ice Cream is another favorite Omit the peppermint candy from the recipe above and substitute 1 cup mashed bananas and 2 teaspoons grated orange rind Stuff halves of slightly sweetened peaches with banana ice cream and garnish with fresh berries

Color An Important Aid in Menu Arrangements

Dear Friends in Marion

The clever hostess is beginning to apply the psychology of color to the choice of menu as well as table linens decorations and accessories In fact, the daily meal planner may be weighing color hormonies and contrasts even more than she realizes

Color plays a particularly important part in stimulating lazy appetites during sultry days Crisp cool greens — watercress with steak or chops parsley with buttered new potatoes lamb wreathed in fragrant sprays of fresh mint and the tempting lettuce hearts and endive in the salad bowl—all these have a part in making the languid dinner perk up and suddenly decide, Well, I m hungry after all

Color has gustatory associations stimulating if properly applied said a prominent color engineer speaking at a national conference in New York recently

This color engineer conceded that green always has been symbolical of freshness Bearing out his theory an intensive cafeteria study disclosed that salad on a green plate was chosen invariably in preference to the same salad on a plate of another color The salad with thin slivers of radishes sells not because uncooked fresh vegetables are recommended by nutritionists but because the the cheery red makes the green of the complementary color all the greener by contrast

Matter of Presentation

Appeal to the appetite must come through the presentation of food The ingenious homemaker studies her lighting effects as well as her garnishes Incidentally color psychologists approve candlelight They maintain that the soft flickering flame inspire animation Candles flatter the food—and the people at the table

Therefore in planning the party menu consider the problem of color The centerpiece of flowers or vegetables or delicate ferns the table linen the china and certain garnishes may be tied together with a definite color harmony Add appetizing contrasts in the color flavor and texture of each course and serve the menu in intimate candlelight remembering that the lights which cast their glow upon the food also exercise control over appetites

No less an authority than Dr Mary Swartz Rose professor of nutrition at Teachers' College Columbia university considers color sufficiently important for discussion in her book on diet and health Feeding the Family Her commonsense advice in the chapter 'The Making of Menus is worth repeating word for word

'A well-balanced diet even if monotonous will be more satisfying in the long run than an ill balanced one because it will insure better health The first thing to see to is that the different dietary essentials are represented each day in some form Then attention may be turned to that variety which comes from differences in form color flavor temperature and texture of foods so prized by the experts in gastronomics The aim of the artist is to arrange a meal not only wholesome but a joy to all the senses

Making It Tempting

'So long as beauty is a part of life and the spirit more than meat the housewife will take pride in assembling her family about a board which delights the eye and makes the mouth water Her great care must be if this spirit is strong in her to see that she does not sacrifice real body welfare to the eye and the palate

'Avoid serving a food which gives its pronounced character to a dish twice in the same meal even in different forms How often we see tomato soup tomato catsup and tomato salad on the same dinner table Or find soup meat and salad flavored with onions and perhaps onions served as a vegetable also

Serving meats in courses helps to heighten artistic effect and is often easier than getting everything on the table at once Courses should contrast with one another, a bland one, then a more highly flavored one a hot one and then a cold one, a fluid one and then a solid one The last course should have a pleasant aftertaste This is especially emphasized in a formal meal like dinner Some people prefer a sweet dessert others cheese still others coffee or fruit.

A meal may consist of a single course and still be artistic in effect, exhibiting contrasts and harmonies within itself Broiled steak potato balls watercress, bread and butter coffee and fruit not only make a satisfying meal but show contrasts of form as between the potato balls and the steak of color emphasized by the cress and the fruit of texture part being good to chew part soft part crisp, and part succulent

On the other hand a meal composed of cheese fondue sweet potatoes creamed carrots baked bananas, and bread and cutter would be equally good from the nutritive point of view but would weary the eye by sameness of color and the palate by sameness of texture and to some extent of flavor

Contrasts Help

Important as color is stimulating appetite are sharp contrasts in texture Homemakers have all the familiar combinations at their fingertips Cranberry or other acid fruit sauce with fowl and game mint and peas with lamb apples with pork products, tomatoes with cheese or beef But the meal that is remembered and applauded long after does not adhere too closely to conventional combinations It dares to adventure in unusual combinations and thus makes the oft used foods seem freshly interesting and different

Delicious with fowl and cold meats are many citrus jams and marmalades notably a pickled orange and which may be made very inexpensively The wise cooks will put up generous jars of gooseberry jam know that it is just as delicious with chicken as cranberry sauce Apples are good with beef and mate happily with sweet potatoes

Quoting again from Dr Rose 'A consideration of the menu—the selection and service of foods in a meal—is worth while because it will help the housewife to make her family eat the foods which they ought to have Skill in cookery and genius in food combinations are only means to this end The ideal meal is a simple one—whether of one or several courses—in which the different types of food are harmoniously represented but not repeated and in which food accessories such as pickles spices preserves and the like are little needed because the foods themselves are well cooked and each contributes its own characteristic flavor texture form and color to the making of a well blended whole

Thus the homemaker has one more important vitamin on her list—vitamin I for eye appeal

HUNCH GIVES McKECHNIE VICTORY IN ALL-STAR GAME, 4-0

Boston's Max West Is Hero, Slams 3-Run Homer in First.

By HAROLD CLAASSEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

ST. LOUIS, July 10—At noon it was a hunch—nothing more—that caused Manager Bill McKechnie to insert Max West of Boston in the starting lineup of the National circuit in the annual major league All Star baseball game.

Thirteen minutes after the contest was under way, it was a brilliant piece of strategy as West deposited a three-run homer in the right field bleachers and started his mates toward a 4 to 0 triumph over the American league.

Ott Held Out

McKechnie's belief that Mel Ott of the New York Giants listed to start in right field until shortly before game time yesterday would be of more value in the late innings when that garden would be the sun field prompted the deacon to make the change.

"It was my hunch that Ott who is older and more experienced would be a bit steadier in the sun and that is the only reason for the change," McKechnie said.

West's knockout punch before a man was out in the first combined with an assortment of all star pitching produced the third National league victory and the first shutout of the competition.

Five hurlers the Nationals summoned to the mound—Paul Derringer and Bucky Walters of the Reds, Whit Wyatt of Brooklyn, Larry French of the Cubs and Carl Hubbell of the Giants—doled out but three hits.

Appling Slugs Apple

Luke Appling of the Chicago White Sox collected a double and a single and Buck Newsom the bellicose Detroit flinger cracked a one-baser. Never did the losers have more than one runner on the paths and Appling was the only one to get beyond second.

It was the White Sox shortstop's double off Derringer in the second that brought about West's removal. The Boston slugger tried to make a leaping catch and slammed into the concrete retaining wall. He suffered a bruised hip but is expected to play again Thursday when action is resumed in the big leagues after a three-day layoff.

Billy Herman the Cub second baseman laced out three hits—equal to the entire opposition output—and fate in the form of a double play by Eddie Miller of Boston, Pete Coscarart of Brooklyn and Frank McCormick of Cincinnati nipped a threat.

Score Off Feller

And after McKechnie pulled his first team the seconds scored the fourth run off Cleveland's great Bob Feller in the eighth but they needed an error by catcher Pollie Ramsley to chase the tally across.

Aside from Appling's robust clouting the losers' chief contribution to the entertainment of the 32,373 fans was the fielding of Joe Gordon, Yank middle sacker.

McKechnie's choice of West who climaxed the first assault on Charley Ruffing was an admitted lucky hunch but he collected for the St. Louis crowd by playing their own Terry Moore in center field the full nine innings although he used 22 of the 25 players allowed him.

Only manager-shortstop Leo Durocher of Brooklyn and pitchers Hugh Mulcahy and Kirby Higbe of the Phillies were inactive.

In addition he jeopardized the success of his league leading Reds in this week end's series with the second place Dodgers by giving the spectators a two inning look at both his ace flingers.

Manager Joe Cronin sent 18 of his stars into the lineup but the best they could do was host five flies plus the three hits to the outfield.

Plans for County Golf Tournament Are Taking Shape

The committee in charge of the second annual county golf tournament sponsored by the Y M C A will meet this week to make plans for the event which will begin Aug 12 at Marion Country club.

The following members of the Y compose the committee: Herb Petrich general chairman, Bill Schimmel and Virgil Greer registrations and pairings, Paul Crim finance, Kenneth Fields prizes and Roger Lovelace publicity.

The Marion Star will award a trophy and plaque to the winner. The trophy must be won three times before it becomes permanent possession while the plaque is a permanent award made each year. John Rife was last year's champion.

Epworth and Oakland Win No. 1 Loop Contests, Remain in Tie for Top Spot

Epworth and Oakland still remain in a tie for first place in the Sunday School No 1 league by virtue of victories last night. Wesley defeated Calvary in the other league tilt.

In a game featured by a home run barrage from both teams Epworth emerged the victor 9 5 over Trinity at the Shovel grounds. The winners collected 15 base blows including two homers by Hero and one by Whitcum. The latter fanned nine men and limited Trinity to seven safeties two of which were circuit blows by Jones and Gilbert. Trinity still retains second place.

Harry Monk pitched Oakland to a 5-2 victory over Forest Lawn at Presidents field. It was the seventh setback of the season for the Forest Lawn team which has broken into the win column only once.

Wesley took advantage of four Calvary errors to whip the latter 8 4 at Garfield park. Bob Lashey held the losers to seven scattered hits while his teammates were touching Roy Mayfield for eight blows. Wesley moves into third place as a result of this win while Calvary drops into the No 4 spot.

The Lull

WHEN it's all written down perhaps the lull before the battle of Britain will be mentioned. It had reached a stage of nervous suspense at the end of the first week in July which was unbearable.

For at least two weeks after the rout of the French in the battle of France nothing much happened. Nevertheless, everyody knew that frenzied preparations were afoot to bring to a conclusive decision the greatest military issue of a generation—perhaps several generations.

They knew that the German army was preparing to exterminate British civilization as it previously had blotted out French civilization. Continuous bombing raids were a reminder that the victims were being terrorized—softened up—preparatory to the kill.

It was argued that the Germans could or could not do what they admitted they intended to do. Britain was different from France said the optimists. The British fleet would be heard from. The British population would stick together. The blockade would begin to hurt Germany. Europe would be starving before long.

But no one dared believe slaughter could be averted no matter who lost. British children were sent abroad. Citizens were warned not to try to run from death, but to face it where it found them lest they multiply their troubles by congesting the roads. Spokesmen talked of a home defense force of 5,000,000. There were pictures of middle-aged Britishers sharpening their shooting eyes. The London Times told readers how to identify a Nazi parachute trooper at a glance. In one way or another all the suspense which had been generating itself from the beginning of the war came to a head in the few weeks between Germany's seizure of Paris and the battle of Britain. If historians forget to mention it old timers who remember what it felt like to wait for the real battle of the century to begin will be able to fill in the details.

Imagination

THE harmless hot weather diversion of wondering what President Roosevelt said to James A. Farley and vice versa is an interesting study in imagination.

A—No one but the two participants know what was said. B—Some very interesting things might have been said. The result of combining A and B's the conclusion that some very interesting things were said. This conclusion seemingly is upheld by Mr. Farley's air of seeming to know more than he is willing to talk about.

However merely by insisting that since no one knows what was said the conversation might have been a complete bust instead of a soul-shaking exchange of viewpoints a skeptic may reach the conclusion that President Roosevelt said nothing to James A. Farley except "Hiya Jim have you heard the one about the farmer who went into a drugstore?"

Naturally the postmaster general wouldn't want to admit that they talked about THAT.

It Didn't Jell

UNLESS something unexpected happens transfer of Mexico's presidency from Lazaro Cardenas to Manuel Avila Camacho will be carried off without unusual disorder. In a Mexican election anything up to 500 deaths is a disorder from 500 to 1,000 is a bloody insurrection more than 1,000 is a first class revolution. These definitions have been worked out on the bloodshed basis of Harlem county Kentucky where politics is played for keeps too.

Juan Andreu Almazan defeated candidate hoped to stir up enough unrest to justify a real crisis in Mexican affairs but apparently the crisis isn't going to jell. A third candidate Rafael Sanchez Tapia was posted but hasn't been heard of recently. Like Mr. Norman Thomas of the United States and the British division dispatched to France he just disappeared. When it's recalled that in 1934 Candidate Cardenas polled 2,268,567 votes to 24,600 for his nearest rival the disappearance of Candidate Almazan who was running against the "machine" may be forecast too.

A Campaign Takes Form

MR. WILLKIE isn't keeping the opposition in any suspense about his campaign. He wants to run against President Roosevelt so he can keep the New Deal squarely in focus as the paramount issue. Having won his political spurs by breaking down the fallacies of lesser New Dealers he'd like to tackle the big boss in person. He seeks no compromise and says so at every opportunity.

This is as neat a stroke of political strategy as the country has seen since the smearers high-pressured Herbert Hoover into trying to defend the depression as something the Republican party didn't produce. Mr. Willkie has talked Mr. Roosevelt into a position where he can't run without breaking the third term precedent or fail to run without delegating defense of the New Deal to some substitute—who would not be a "reasonable facsimile" of the real thing.

For the first time in 10 these many years America's ranking politician is up against an opponent who seems to understand maneuvering as well as he does.

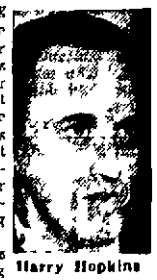
News Behind the News

Harry Hopkins, Rather Than Farley, Expected To Be Big Power at Chicago

By PAUL MALLON

WASHINGTON July 17—While General Farley is handling the surface arrangements for the straw convention in Chicago, the real negotiations are being managed by Harry Hopkins the secretary of commerce.

Mr. Hopkins is Mr. Roosevelt's inside man. He has succeeded in a way to the 1932 job of the late Louis Howe except that Mr. Hopkins personal and official relationship with the new Roosevelt that is growing up out of the changed war situation gives him a far greater status. In fact the commerce secretary has during the past few weeks become the alter ego of the President operating not only in political directions but in guiding the entire new national defense setup.



Harry Hopkins

There are some nearby the White House who expect that the expansion of Mr. Hopkins activities will lead him to no less a position than chairman of the national committee to succeed Farley or personal director of the third term campaign in case Mr. Roosevelt goes after it. In conjunction with his new duties Hopkins went to Chicago quietly last week. As this column went to press it had not yet been decided whether he would fly in Monday next week on the convention spot or from Hyde Park but the word was reaching all the party leaders out in the country that he was the man to see.

New Role

This is a new role for the former director of the work projects administration and some of the politicos have considered the President's choice a surprise although not those who are closest to the President. While Hopkins has had no previous off-the-political experience he knows all the local party leaders by their first name and likewise fully knows and favors the change that has taken place in the direction of the government since the outbreak of the war developed in Europe. In this he is distinct from his old reform colleagues at the extreme left of the New Deal, who neither favor nor approve the recent turn. I mean Thomas Corcoran who has been authoritatively reported as upset by the relaxation of reform pressure.

N Y Disturbance

A minor disturbance in the New York delegation has caused some annoyances among the party directors. Friends of New York's Governor Lehman apparently thought their vote should be cast for him on the first ballot. Two New York City leaders shared their view. Lehman has been an outstanding Democrat for four term governor and according to their way of thinking rated a compliment. Mr. Farley has been working on it.

Vice Presidency

Campaigning for the vice presidential nomination has been sharp and persons although not in public. Friends of Speaker Bankhead have been particularly active. So have the associates of Indiana's Paul McNutt. They all have been assuming Mr. Roosevelt would run (all the New Dealers in congress and half of the conservative Democrats seem to be so shared that view recently) and as he will not be able to campaign extensively they have been using the effective argument that he should get a running mate who could keep up with Willkie.

Those close to State Secretary Hull have not been exceptionally active considering the choice of their man would be directed by the highest authority perhaps for first place if any.

Cooperation

Mr. Hopkins has provided such generous cooperation for the big business leaders who have been working in the new national defense regime that some of them seem to be a bit bewildered. As one has privately said:

Since I came into the government I feel like the fellow who jumped out of a 20 story window. When passing the ninth floor on the way down he was asked by a voice from a window how he was getting along. His reply was:

Doing all right so far!

On The Record

Effect of Possible British Defeat on U S Position Analyzed.

By DOROTHY THOMPSON

THINGS become clearer and clearer. Soon they will be so obvious that the blindest eye can see.

Saturday's newspapers published four items of gravest concern to the United States.

First Germany declares the Monroe Doctrine untenable except as it includes Germany as well as Britain.

Second The Petain government severs relations with Great Britain.

Third Petain government receives the consent of the Axis powers to use its ships against Great Britain, and Gibraltar is bombed by French planes.

Fourth Neutral diplomats predict that Nazis will open a peace offensive against Great Britain. If the last is successful a united Nazi-dominated Europe will face the United States, which will be isolated without a single friend or ally in the whole world.

Dorothy Thompson

Let us look at what we have done. Before this war ever broke out we passed a neutrality act which tied the United States hand and foot. The administration bill succeeded in lifting the embargo on arms to the Allies, but it retained strangulating provisions. The assumption behind both versions of the neutrality act and behind the isolationist movement was that the war in Europe does not concern us. It was just one of those recurrent European quarrels which would result in the changing of this boundary or that. It was no concern either of the United States or of the Western Hemisphere.

Handicaps

Such aid as we could give the Allies, in the form of goods paid for in cash, in harmony with every traditional consideration of international law was hampered by the dilatoriness of the Allies plus a constant fear on their part that even these shipments might be halted because of the huge isolationist propaganda in the United States by the necessity of preserving their gold resources since credit was barred and by the fact that nothing could be transported in American bottoms.

Meanwhile France has been defeated and observe the nature of that defeat. The government of France has changed and a new government has taken its place. This government does not withdraw, defeated from the war but, in effect it joins the Axis powers putting what remains of the French fleet and air force at the disposal of the axis, as well we may presume as its financial reserves.

Tomorrow Britain will be defeated or with her recent and last ally in active opposition to her will make peace. In either event the following things will happen: the present British government which is pro-American, will resign or be ousted. A pro-Nazi government will take its place. Britain then with her en the fleet will join the Axis powers.

And against whom will Pan-Europe led by Germany then be directed?

Against the Western Hemisphere.

And in the Western Hemisphere this Pan-Nazi-Europe need acquire no new bases. There is Greenland owned by Denmark now a Nazi protectorate as near to the Northwest Territory of Canada as Norway is to Britain. There are all the British, Dutch and French possessions in the Caribbean. There is Canada with 3,000 miles of unfortified frontier on the United States. There is South America, with every cultural and economic tie affiliating her with Europe—with Germany, France, Italy and Great Britain—not with us. There is Japan in the Far East.

Possible Situation

Thus armed north and south and east and west we have one navy, excellent outposts in the Pacific and none at all if Britain goes in the Atlantic. The Panama Canal is vulnerable.

This situation may occur in the middle of a presidential campaign in which candidates are still discussing whether the New Deal is or not a good thing. It may occur while his country devoted to a most preposterous interpretation of the right of free speech and assembly actually still allows the German-American Bund to encamp and train its cohorts and the Communist party to organize inside our schools, social organizations and trade unions.

This situation may occur while Mr. Ford in charge of one of the largest complexes of factories in the United States strikes against the foreign policy of the United States in refusing to manufacture planes for Great Britain.

Freedom is among other things, the possibility of choice. The possible choices for the United States become fewer and fewer. Soon we may have only one choice: to join the Axis ourselves and accept Nazi control over our institutions, under some government "acceptable" to Germans. Perhaps we shall now play a role similar to that of France and Great Britain. Perhaps ours will be the role instead of Austria or Czecho-Slovakia or Denmark.

From News of Other Years

TEN YEARS AGO

It was Thursday, July 10 1930.

Marion was enjoying a temporary respite from a heat wave which had raised the temperature to 94 on Wednesday. A thunderstorm dropped the mercury 10 degrees.

The office of district census supervisor Frank A. Bevy was closed with completion of the 1930 population check. He thanked the public for its cooperation.

Miss Gertrude Haberman of North Main street and Miss Lucille Crocker of Blaine avenue were on a vacation trip to Cleveland and Niagara Falls.

Seventy attended a golf and Bridge party held at the Country club. Hostesses were Mrs. J. H. Much, Mrs. George G. Lippincott, Mrs. Alec Gibson, Mrs. Dan L. LaMarche, Mrs. J. D. Harrison, Mrs. R. F. Nelson, Mrs. E. H. Morgan, Mrs. W. P. Moloney, Miss Jean Trier, Miss Helen Jacoby and Mrs. Dorothy Strellitz.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

It was Saturday, July 10 1920.

Mr. and Mrs. Royal Andrews and children returned home from a visit of several days in Bellefontaine.

Mrs. F. L. Brady and son returned from a visit in Chicago.

Mrs. George Schlientz 58, died at her home in Caledonia.

Miss Marie C. Fish and Noble I. Stafford were united in marriage by Dr. Jesse Swank at the Epworth M. E. parsonage.

Following conferences at Harding campaign headquarters in Marion in which Senator Harding, Gen. T. Coleman duPont chairman of the committee on arrangements for notification ceremonies, and Harry M. Daugherty member of the Republican national executive committee participated Gen. duPont gave out the official program for the notification to take place at Garfield park Thursday afternoon July 22. The program was as follows: presiding officer Will H. Hays chairman of Republican national committee, The Star Spangled Banner; Columbus Republican Glee club, invocation Dr. T. H. McAfee pastor Trinity Baptist church; notification speech Senator Henry Cabot Lodge of Massachusetts, chairman of notification committee; acceptance Senator Harding; America; sung by assembly led by Columbus Republican Glee club; benediction Rev. Joseph M. Denning pastor St. Mary's Catholic church. General duPont set a meeting of the notification committee in Columbus for Wednesday July 21 and a meeting of the Republican national committee was set for the same day in Columbus with a dinner for all at the Columbus Athletic club in the evening. The committeemen were to come to Marion for the notification ceremonies on a special Hocking Valley train the morning of July 22 and return to Columbus by special train immediately following the ceremony. Maj. Gen. Leonard Wood who had been defeated for the Republican presidential nomination in the contest with Senator Harding sent a message that he was on his way to Marion for a conference with Mr. Harding. He was expected to arrive on the same train with Sen. Albert D. Cummins of Iowa. One of Mr. Harding's visitors was J. Frank Hanly former governor of Indiana and one presidential candidate of the Prohibition party. Following the visit Mr. Hanly said he had simply outlined his views on various questions renewed old acquaintance and had a pleasant half-hour.

Senator Harding received an invitation to use the Mansfield golf course whenever he cared to. The invitation was presented by a delegation of Mansfield citizens headed by F. B. Cappeller publisher of the Mansfield News. Mr. Harding, in accepting said he could not avail himself of the privilege until after the notification ceremonies. Senator Harding publicly announced that as a part of his plan to restore party government he would, if elected, invite the vice president to participate ex officio in all cabinet conferences. He had received numerous letters commending him upon his display of teamwork in inviting Mr. Coolidge, his running mate to confer with him at Washington on all campaign issues. A check for $50 was received at Harding headquarters from Henry D. Fruit of Washington. Mr. Fruit explained that the money was to be used for purchase of as many copies of The Marion Star containing Harding's speech of acceptance as it would buy. These papers were to be distributed to persons who did not take a daily paper regularly.

Also the Sixth Column

From the Wall Street Journal

WHATEVER the final cost of the national defense program American citizens will have to pay it out of their wages salaries and other income for the next five years or more. To do so they will have to set aside that much money which they would have spent on other things. It means the sacrifice of luxuries for some a shortage of necessities for others.

President Roosevelt has said that no millionaire is to be made out of this program. Just about all American citizens feel in accord with that statement. But there is another much larger group which requires watching one that we might well call the sixth column. It is the horde of local and national politicians who will be in the front line waving the flags and through selfish interest or pain bungling may cause us more trouble than all our other internal enemies combined. They will be protecting jobs and building up political fences and theories at the expense of the American taxpayer and to the hindrance of the defense program.

Locally they will propose all sorts of expenditures which would seem to be in line with the national defense program. Many of these proposals will be nothing more than a duplication of national defense plans, or excrescences upon it.

THE best contribution that the 48 states and all the other local governments could make would be to let the federal government handle the defense program. It certainly would be hindered rather than helped if 48 governors began drawing up plans of dubious value, the expense of which would have to be added to the taxes already levied for the national program.

Perhaps the most sensible program yet suggested for the local governments is that of the New Jersey Taxpayers Association. That group has asked for a deduction of 10 per cent in state expenditures asserting that the nation's plans for extensive preparedness require stringent economies in state and local governments. Here is a proposal which taxpayers as individuals and in groups should advocate. Every dollar saved by the 175,000 state and local governments during this time of emergency will make it easier for the United States and its citizens to shoulder the cost of national defense. Every office holder who chooses to recognize that fact should be rejected.

Gun Shoots Light

By The Associated Press

LARAMIE, Wyo.—A machine gun which shoots beams of light instead of bullets is the new economical way they're turning out expert machine gun marksmen at the University of Wyoming R O T C.

Major Malcolm E. Craig of the teaching staff described the device as a telescope with a small light behind it. When the trigger is pulled the light strikes the target instead of a bullet.

Major Craig has built a sound box for amplifying the noise of machine gun fire to make practice realistic.

Two minutes of rapid fire in real shooting requires 1,000 round of 30 caliber costing $31.45. The army allots only 610 rounds—about a minute of rapid fire—to train a gunner. But Wyoming's recruits can fire the beam gun as much as they please and there is no wear on the firing apparatus. The gun was developed by the major and other army officers upon basic ideas advanced by Capt. Charles H. Coates now of San Francisco. Its range is only 500 feet, but a smaller target is used to compensate for shortened range distance.

Ethel Decides She Can Stand a Knee in the Back If It Will Keep Peace in a Movie Palace.

By DAMON RUNYON

Mr Joe Turp Writes From Brooklyn:

DEAR SIR Last night I took my wife Ethel to a movie and we got in at the tail end of the feature picture and there was a wait until the program started again and all of a sudden Ethel turned around and looked at a dame who was in the seat right behind her and sez I beg your pardon but are your knees so big you can't find any other place to put them?

I sez what is the matter Ethel? She sez the girl behind me has got herself smooched away down in her seat and her knees are bunched up against the back of my seat. It makes me very uncomfortable Joe. I sez sh sh sh Ethel. I sez do you have to pay any attention to little things like that in the movies? Ethel sez if you mean her knees are little things you are badly mistaken Joe Turp. They are as big as watermelons and they feel like two pieces of rock back there.

The dame sat up in her seat and leaned over and sez Is that so? Ethel sez yes that's really so. Your knees feel just like I was leaning against two pieces of rock. I sez look Ethel I see she has got her knees down now so forget it. The dame sez I am going to put them back up there again as soon as I tell this person with you a few things. She has got an awful nerve insulting a lady.

ETHEL sez I beg your pardon but ladies should not be sitting in a position that puts their knees up against the back of somebody's seat like two pieces of rock. It is very undignified to sit that way.

You just ought to see how undignified you look smooched down in your seat with your big knees sticking up in the air like watermelons. The dame sez O my knees are big are they? Ethel sez I will leave it to your best friend, if you have one.

The dame sez I guess I have got 10,000 more best friends than you have and then a young guy in a sports shirt who was sitting alongside her sez why don't you two stop squawking? I want to see a picture in peace once in my life. Ethel sez are you with that girl? The young guy sez no she's with me. Ethel sez what's the difference. The young guy sez you try to figure out some of it.

Ethel sez Joe I think is a terribly fresh fellow but I see I see sh sh so Ethel I see the picture is about to start and the young guy sez that's right pal you've been beautiful quiet and I will take care of this pancake who is with me. Ethel sez Joe can't you see how fresh he is you ought to say something to him.

JUST as the picture began and Ethel was quiet for a while then she whispered Joe her knees are up there again I can feel them like two pieces of rock I sez O Ethel forget about them and enjoy the picture Ethel sez well Joe nothing makes me so uncomfortable as to have somebody's knees against the back of my seat I sez all right then we will change seats Ethel sez we will not do anything of the kind. That would only give her a lot of satisfaction I ought to do something to her.

I sez please Ethel let's not have any trouble about anything tonight I sez suppose you just change seats with me and Ethel sez O no that would give her a lot of satisfaction too I will pretend to myself that her knees are not there no matter how uncomfortable it is.

I sez that's swell Ethel and she did not say another word but once she laughed right out loud at a place in the picture that was very serious and did not call for laughing.

I was surprised when we got up to go and Ethel turned to the young guy and smiled and sez good night I noticed the dame with him was scowling and I sez Ethel how did you come to be so pleasant to that guy you sez was so fresh? Ethel sez O he was not so fresh after all Joe I think he is really a gentleman I sez it's very strange you changed your mind so sudden I sez another thing why was you laughing at that serious place in the picture?

ETHEL sez O that was when I heard that girl behind me let out a little scream and holler ouch. It was just after I heard the fellow say to her why don't you be nice and I turned around just in time to see him give her a good crack across the knees with his doubled up fist I guess he hit her on the funny bone Joe and you know how that hurts. She took her knee down right away and I was very comfortable after that. Yes I think he really is a gentleman Joe.

I sez Ethel I am surprised at you I sez if I had done a thing like that to you I would never have heard the last of it I sez if you ask me he is anything but a gentleman I sez I was going to punch him around after the picture until I saw how friendly you was towards him I sez besides I remembered he spoke the truth about you Ethel sez how was that Joe? I sez he called you beautiful and Ethel sez well I told you he was a gentleman.

Yours truly
JOE TURP

Anecdotes of Ohio

By GILBERT F. DODDS

Peter Cartwright one of Ohio's early, gifted zealous, itinerant preachers, had ridden the circuit in Kentucky to gain fame, before the Ohio Methodist church conference engaged him to hold religious camp meetings in Springfield.

Scheduled to start the meeting the second day in September 1832 Mr. Cartwright did not show up. Finally a messenger gave a note to a presiding elder who had taken over. The message read:

Dear Brethren—The devil has foundered my horse which will detain me from reaching the tabernacle till evening. I might have performed the journey on foot, but I could not leave poor Paul (the horse) especially as he has never left Peter (Cartwright). Horses have no souls to save and therefore it is all the more the duty of a Christian to take care of their bodies. Watch and pray and don't let the devil get among you on the sly before candle-light when I shall be at my post."

It was signed "Peter Cartwright."

Rare Bird

A brief but spirited encounter with the records discloses that coalition is a rare bird in American politics. Only by stretching magnification can it be said to have happened at all except in congress.

George Washington tried to organize a government of different shades of opinion but the result was internal combustion. Abraham Lincoln tried it too and named Democrats to his cabinet, even choosing for his running mate in 1864 a pro Union Democrat Andrew Johnson. The result was disastrous. When Johnson succeeded to the presidency, he ran head-on into Republicans in congress.

The same thing happened 23 years before when the Whigs tempted Democratic votes with John Tyler as a running mate for William Henry Harrison. Harrison died a month after taking office and Tyler a malcontented Democrat had no friends in either party.

President Wilson was urged to try coalition in the World war but went only part way by appointing prominent Republicans to important posts. He permitted none to enter his cabinet.

Franklin D. Roosevelt by appointing Henry L. Stimson and Col. Frank Knox to key posts in his cabinet, apparently has broken another precedent, whatever the other results may be.

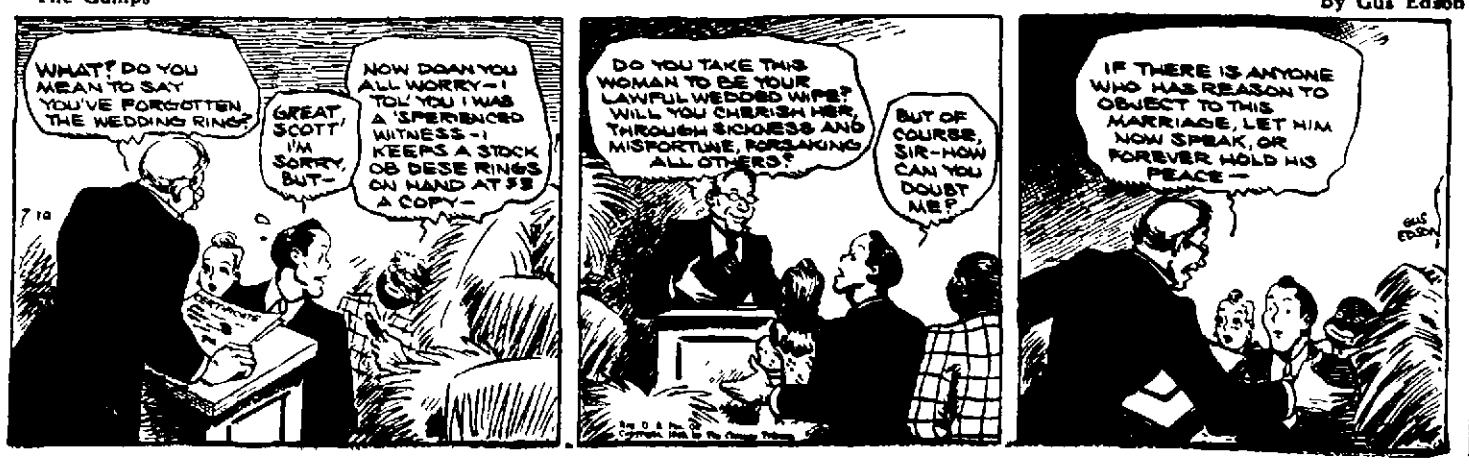
The Gumps — By Gus Edson



WHAT? DO YOU MEAN TO SAY YOU'VE FORGOTTEN THE WEDDING RING?
GREAT SCOTT! I'M SORRY, BUT—
NOW DOAN YOU ALL WORRY—I TOL' YOU I WAS A 'SPERIENCED WITNESS—I KEEPS A STOCK OB DESE RINGS ON HAND AT $3 A COPY—
DO YOU TAKE THIS WOMAN TO BE YOUR LAWFUL WEDDED WIFE? WILL YOU CHERISH HER, THROUGH SICKNESS AND MISFORTUNE, FORSAKING ALL OTHERS?
BUT OF COURSE, SIR—HOW CAN YOU DOUBT ME?
IF THERE IS ANYONE WHO HAS REASON TO OBJECT TO THIS MARRIAGE, LET HIM NOW SPEAK, OR FOREVER HOLD HIS PEACE—

WHEAT CLOSES WITH LITTLE CHANGE TODAY

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO July 10 — Wheat prices fluctuated nervously over a range of more than a cent today and closed with little net change for the session

Hedging sales some rain mainly in North Dakota and Minnesota and prospects of showers and cooler weather in the North American spring wheat belt offset pessimistic crop reports

Wheat closed ¼ lower to ¼ higher compared with yesterday's finish July 74⅜-¾ September 75⅝-½ corn ¼-1 cent higher July 62 September 59¼-⅜ oats unchanged to ¼ up

Corn strength was attributed to reports of crop deterioration and failure of receipts to expand When wheat was lower most of the session but turned up toward the close Experts estimated 1,000,000 bushels mostly Canadian, were sold to Great Britain

JAPAN NAVY JOINS MARINE ARGUMENT

Admiral Calls Arrests Grave Insult to Soldiers

By The Associated Press

SHANGHAI July 10—The Japanese navy today joined the army in bitter verbal attacks on the United States marine garrison in Shanghai, reiterating charges that Japanese gendarmerie arrested by marines July 7 had been mistreated and the Japanese military insulted

Rear Admiral Moriji Takeda commander of the Japanese naval garrison here told newspapermen that the violence and insults inflicted on the Japanese gendarmes were barbarous acts beyond description

Col DeWitt Peck the marine garrison commander has replied bluntly to the Japanese charges that they were lies and demanded an explanation of the 18 gendarmes present in the American defense zone in violation of previous agreements at the time of their five hour detention Sunday

The fact that United States marines committed such acts fully knowing the Japanese were gendarmes is a deliberate and grave insult to Japanese soldiers Admiral Takeda said

I am greatly offended as a soldier and as a Japanese subject by such an insult to the honor of Japanese forces I am paying attention to developments of the case with the greatest concern

A Japanese army spokesman said Colonel Peck had not yet replied to Major General Miura's demand for an apology He said the statement made yesterday by the marine commander (explaining that the Japanese were arrested after they had been pointed out as possible terrorists) was not considered an answer The point of Miura's protest he explained was not the arrest itself but violence against the gendarmes and unfriendly treatment to which they were subjected like criminals sentenced to death

Oscar S Smith regional director of the national labor relations board announced a hearing would be held Friday on the union's petition for a collective bargaining election

The company has said it cannot bargain with the CIO union because of a contract with the Precision Employes association which does not expire until next December

In an NLRB election yesterday at the company's Syracuse N Y plant workers rejected both the CIO union and an independent organization as bargaining agent Sixty voted for no union 32 for the CIO-affiliated union, and none for the Precision employes Independent union One vote was challenged

Expect Start Of Wheat Harvest in County Next Week

Harvesting of wheat is expected to begin in Marion and surrounding counties next week according to reports received by local grain dealers

The crop is about a week later than last year largely the result of cool spring weather and the long rainy season The yield however is expected to compare favorably with the 1939 harvest but grain company officials were reluctant to hazard a guess on the quality until first samples arrive

Farmers will receive higher prices for their grain this year according to present indications Today's price of wheat is 69 cents a bushel in comparison with 61 cents for the same day a year ago Farmers may expect from 8 cent to 10 cents more per bushel milling company officials indicated

Harvesting of the golden grain has already begun in several counties south of Columbus which territory is approximately a week to 10 days ahead of the season in Marion and vicinity It was predicted

YOUR HEALTH

By DR. LOGAN C. CLENDENING

Destiny's Shapers

The ductless glands work constantly and upon their smooth and efficient operation depends much of our happiness, good appearance, disposition, spirits, and even personality. I am not one who believes that criminals and morons are that way because of defectiveness of their ductless glands and that they can be changed into something good and noble by a few shots in the arm. Nor do I think Napoleon was Napoleon on account of his pituitary gland—or Mussolini, or Hitler, or Stalin either. Heredity and environment have most to do with crooks big and little.

But size and shape have a good deal to do with the way a man or a woman fronts the world, and the glands have a good deal to do with size and shape.

There is a destiny shaper that lies up in the skull in the pituitary gland. It's a very small little piece of flesh to have so much to do with so many things, not as big as the end of your little finger. But if it gets to be as big as the end of your thumb, there is the dickens to pay.

Growth, both vertically and horizontally, depends on the pituitary gland, and nobody can deny that has some effect on the personality. Six feet three looks at the world differently than four feet eight. And two hundred and fifty pounds finds things different every minute of the day and night from a hundred and five.

Overactivity of the pituitary gland causes gigantism and removal of the gland (in the rat as the experimental animal) slows growth and development generally. Looking at them, one would not think he was looking at an animal some months rather than some years old.

If the contrary experiment is carried out—of injecting pituitary extract into some of the newly born animals of a litter, they grow twice or three times as fast as their untreated litter mates.
